

Volunteer Investment and Value Audit (VIVA)

The Volunteer Investment and Value Audit (VIVA) is a tool to demonstrate the economic value of volunteer work, assess the total amount that an organization spends on its volunteers, and determines the relationship between these two parameters. VIVA can also be a useful tool in advocating for support and greater focus on volunteering and in helping staff to examine their volunteer management and community services.

2017 VIVA study series

---

In 2017, the VIVA series feature the value of youth volunteers in Asia Pacific from New Zealand, Pakistan, China, Mongolia, Philippines, Bangladesh with guest stories from Iran and Sudan. VIVA Pamphlet.

The series:

1. A Volunteering Study Focusing on the Participants, Facilitators and Community of the 2015 Youth Emergency Preparedness Programme \(YEPP\) (Dunedin, New Zealand)
2. A Volunteer Investment and Value Audit \(VIVA\) Study on Youth Volunteers of Emergency Response Program (Pakistan Red Crescent Society)
3. A Volunteer Investment and Value Audit \(VIVA\) Study Focusing on the Youth Engagement in Family Medicine Kit Project (Red Cross Society of China)
4. A Volunteering Study Focusing on the Youth Members Voluntary Work in Health and Safety Plan for New Year's Passengers (Red Crescent Society of Iran)
5. The study focusing on a value of the young volunteers working in refugees camp in South Sudanese in White Nile State (Sudanese Red Crescent Society)
6. The Helpful Group in Action (Mongolian Red Cross Society)
7. A Volunteer Investment and Value Audit \(VIVA\) study on Community Based Health and First Aid \(CBHFA\) program of the PRC's Health Program (Philippine Red Cross Society)
8. A study focusing on the engagement of Red Crescent Youth members and enriching of the RCY Co-curriculum activities (Bangladesh Red Crescent Society)

2015 VIVA study series

---

In 2015, the VIVA series feature studies from Afghanistan, Bangladesh, Hong Kong, China, Japan, Fiji and the Philippines. If you are interested to conduct this kind of study but feel that you may need support, please contact Alex Torres at alex.torres@ifrc.org. VIVA Pamphlet.

The series are:

1. A study focusing on the value of volunteers mobilized for dead body exchange in Afghanistan (Afghan Red Crescent)
2. A study focusing on the Cyclone Preparedness Programme \(CPP\) volunteers' response to Cyclone Mahasen in the coastal belt of Bangladesh (Bangladesh Red Crescent)

3. A study focusing on the value of volunteers mobilized for psychological support service in emergencies (Hong Kong Branch of the Red Cross Society of China)
4. A study focusing on the value of volunteers mobilized in the Integrated Community Resilience \(ICR\) Program in China (Red Cross Society of China)
5. A study focusing on the value of volunteers supporting the Red Cross Sato-no-House for the elderly in Chiba, Japan (Japanese Red Cross Society)
6. A study focusing on the value of volunteers mobilized during the Dengue Fever Outbreak (Fiji Red Cross Society)
7. A study focusing on the value of volunteers mobilized for all chapter services (Philippine Red Cross)

2014 VIVA study series

---

In 2014, the VIVA series feature studies from Mongolia, Philippines, Myanmar, Bangladesh and Micronesia. If you are interested to conduct this kind of study but feel that you may need support, please contact Alex Torres at alex.torres@ifrc.org. Urban Volunteering in Asia Pacific

The series:

1. Youth volunteers' response to people affected by Rana Plaza building collapse in Savar (Bangladesh Red Crescent Society)
2. Services rendered by volunteers in the field of HIV youth peer education, first aid and disaster response (Micronesia Red Cross Society, Kosrae Chapter)
3. Social care services to the most vulnerable people (Mongolian Red Cross Society)
4. A study focusing on the assistance provided by volunteers to those affected by the inter-communal violence in the Rakhine State(Myanmar Red Cross Society)
5. A study on chapter volunteers working in the field of disaster preparedness and response, first aid and safety services, community health and social services, blood services and fund generation(Philippine Red Cross, Quezon City Chapter)
6. A study on the Red Cross 143 volunteers (Philippine Red Cross, Lapu-Lapu/Cordova Chapter)

2013 VIVA study series

---

In 2013, the Asia Pacific Organizational Development Volunteering Unit will support national societies which have expressed interest, to conduct VIVA studies. The studies shall be reviewed and may be selected to be included in the 2013 VIVA study series. If you are interested to conduct this kind of study but feel that you may need support, please contact Alex Torres at alex.torres@ifrc.org. VIVA Pamphlet

2012 Viva study series

---

The 2012 VIVA study series consist of the following:

1. Emergency Response Unit (Quezon City Chapter, Philippine Red Cross)

2. Social services to the most vulnerable (Mongolia Red Cross Society)
3. Disaster Preparedness for Safer Schools (Nepal Red Cross)
4. International Friendship and Understanding (Nepal Red Cross)
5. Red Cross Action Team (Nepal Red Cross)